Complaints

Procedure

7. Subject to Regulation 8, the Regulator shall offer without charge a 'complaints handling' service to the public in cases where there is disagreement between a complainant and a Regulated Entity about whether the Editors' Code has been breached.
8. The Regulator may, but is not obliged to, consider complaints: (a) from any person who has been personally and directly affected by the alleged breach of the Editors' Code; or (b) where an alleged breach of the Editors' Code is significant and there is substantial public interest in the Regulator considering the complaint, from a representative group affected by the alleged breach; or (c) from a third party seeking to correct a significant inaccuracy of published information. In the case of third party complaints the position of the party most closely involved should be taken into account. The Regulator may reject without further investigation complaints which show no prima facie breach of the Editors' Code and/or are without justification (such as an attempt to argue a point of opinion or to lobby) and/or vexatious and/or disproportionate.
9. The Regulator may, at its discretion, allow a complaint to be brought notwithstanding that legal proceedings (whether civil or criminal) may later be brought concerning the subject matter of the complaint.
10. Complaints shall include:
 - 10.1 a copy of the article in question, if there is one;
 - 10.2 a written outline of the concerns by reference to the Editors' Code; and
 - 10.3 any other documents which will help the Regulator to assess the complaint.
11. Complaints shall only be accepted if they have been submitted, either to the Regulator or the Regulated Entity, within four months from the date of the conduct or first publication of the article complained of, save that if a complaint is received outside such four month period but within 12 months of the date of first publication of the article complained of, and relates to an article which remains accessible to the public on a Regulated Entity's website or on other electronic services operated by the Regulated Entity, the Regulator shall consider the complaint only if the Regulator considers that it is still possible for it to investigate and adjudicate fairly, having regard to the period of time since first publication.

In circumstances where the complaint is first made within time to the Regulated Entity, the Regulator may accept the complaint if it is still being actively pursued between the Regulated Entity and complainant, even if the complaint is submitted to the Regulator outside the relevant period.

12. Subject to Regulation 11, on receipt of a complaint, the Regulator shall review the complaint to ensure that (a) it falls within the Regulator's remit; and (b) discloses a possible breach of the Editors' Code. If the Regulator is not satisfied that the complaint should proceed, it shall write to the complainant to explain why and shall reject the complaint. A complainant can ask the Regulator to review any rejection decision, but must make this request within 7 days of receiving written confirmation of rejection. The Regulator may re-open the complaint following such review.
13. In the case of any complaint which is not rejected by the Regulator or which has been re-opened following a review, in each case pursuant to Regulation 12, the Regulator shall notify the Regulated Entity of the complaint. Consideration of such complaint by the Regulator will not begin until the earlier of: (i) the exhaustion of the Regulated Entity's internal complaints process; (ii) a request by the Regulated Entity for the Regulator to consider the complaint; or (iii) 28 days after the Regulated Entity has received notice of the complaint from the Regulator pursuant to this Regulation 13, unless the Regulator determines that its earlier involvement is essential.

Mediation and complaints handling by the Complaints Committee

14. Subject to Regulation 13, the complaint shall be investigated by a complaints committee, acting under the delegated authority of the Regulator's Board, which shall be composed in accordance with Regulation 41 (the Complaints Committee).
15. This investigation will be conducted in accordance with the procedural requirements set out in Annex C, as amended from time to time by the Regulator's Board as set out in the Scheme Membership Agreement.
16. Where appropriate, the Complaints Committee will seek to find a satisfactory resolution to a complaint by facilitating mediation.

Inquiries by the Complaints Committee

17. Where the Regulator's Board becomes aware of an alleged breach of Clauses 6.4, 13, 15 and 16 of the Editors' Code, or a prima facie breach of any other Clause except Clause 1, that it reasonably considers to be serious and where the Regulator has received no complaint which leads to an investigation under Regulation 14, it may recommend that the Complaints Committee make inquiries of any Regulated Entity:
 - 17.1 where there is substantial public interest in the Regulator acting in the absence of a complaint and, in respect of Clauses other than 6.4, 13, 15 and 16, such decision is taken by unanimous decision of the Regulator's Board at a board meeting;
 - 17.2 if appropriate, other than in respect of clauses 6.4, 13, 15 and 16, having first obtained the express consent of any party or parties most closely involved;
18. Where the Regulator considers suggestions from third parties, it must be satisfied that these are not made without justification (such as an attempt to argue a point of opinion or to lobby) and/or vexatious and/or disproportionate.
19. In considering whether to pursue inquiries, the Regulator will take into account the ability of the party or parties most closely involved to pursue a complaint to the Regulator. Where the party or parties appear to have the ability to complain, the Board must be satisfied that there are compelling reasons why the party or parties will not do so, which would justify the Board proceeding in the absence of their complaint.

20. The Regulator will seek to obtain relevant material from the party or parties most closely involved and will take into account any material obtained, or any refusal to provide information in its determination, including considering whether it is able to reach a decision.
21. In cases where publication has not taken place, other than in respect of Clause 6.4, 13, 15 and 16, a Regulated Entity may notify the Regulator of its belief that the proposed Complaints Committee inquiry would restrict specific legitimate and continuing journalistic activity in a matter incompatible with the Regulator's obligation to have regard at all times to the importance of freedom of expression.
22. Following receipt of a notification under Regulation 21 the Committee will suspend any inquiry for 28 days. This period will be extended for successive 28-day periods subject to re-certification by the Regulated Entity. Any such suspension would be lifted at the time of publication.
23. Subject to Regulations 17-22, inquiries by the Complaints Committee may be initiated by the Regulator's Board:
 - 23.1 on its own initiative; or
 - 23.2 in response to complaints or suggestions received from employees of Regulated Entities; or
 - 23.3 from a third party; or
 - 23.4 from an individual using the whistleblowing hotline.
24. It shall be at the Regulator's sole discretion as to whether or not to initiate an inquiry.
25. Such an inquiry shall be treated as a complaint for the purposes of these Regulations.
26. No Regulated Entity will be obliged to provide information under this provision in breach of a legal duty of confidentiality.

Determination by the Complaints Committee

27. If the complaint is not resolved by mediation, or following the conclusion of inquiries under Regulations 17-22, the Complaints Committee shall determine whether or not there has been a breach of the Editors' Code and shall notify the complainant and any relevant Regulated Entity of its decision.
28. If the Complaints Committee determines that there has not been a breach of the Editors' Code, the complaint shall be rejected.
29. If the Complaints Committee determines that the Editors' Code has been breached and there has been no request for a review of the decision within the time period set out in Regulation 33, the Complaints Committee shall issue an Adjudication outlining its findings which may include a requirement for the Regulated Entity to take remedial action.

Remedial Action

30. If a complaint is upheld by the Complaints Committee (whether or not after a review), remedial action shall, save as otherwise provided in this Regulation, consist of a requirement for the Regulated Entity to publish a correction and/or an Adjudication, unless the Complaints Committee at its discretion dispenses with such requirement. The nature, extent and placement of such corrections and Adjudications will be determined by the Regulator acting proportionately and taking into account the nature of the Regulated Entity and its Publications. The Regulator will notify the Regulated Entity and the complainant, where applicable, and take account of any comments before requiring publication of a correction or Adjudication. In cases where a Regulated Entity's arrangements for enforcing standards and compliance have been found to be at fault, the Regulator may inform the Regulated Entity in writing that further remedial action is required to ensure the requirements of the Editors' Code are met.
31. The power to impose remedial action shall apply equally to:
 - 31.1 individual breaches of the Editors' Code;
 - 31.2 groups of people as described in Regulation 8 where there is no single identifiable individual who has been affected; and
 - 31.3 matters of fact where there is no single identifiable individual who has been affected.

32. A complainant or Regulated Entity may request that a decision made by the Complaints Committee in accordance with Regulation 27 be reviewed by an independent person, appointed by the Appointments Panel in accordance with the Appointments Principles set out in the Regulator's Articles, who shall not be a member of the Board or Complaints Committee (the Complaints Reviewer). Requests for a review by the Complaints Reviewer may be made only on the ground that the process by which the Complaints Committee's decision was made is substantially flawed.
33. A request for review by the Complaints Reviewer must be made in writing to the Regulator within 14 days of the relevant decision by the Complaints Committee and it shall be at the Regulator's discretion whether or not to refer the complaint to the Complaints Reviewer.
34. If the Regulator decides not to accept the request for review, it shall uphold the Complaints Committee's original decision and the Complaints Committee shall issue an Adjudication outlining its findings which may include a requirement for the Regulated Entity to take remedial action.
35. If the Regulator decides to accept the request for review (in whole or in part), it will refer the complaint to the Complaints Reviewer.
36. The Complaints Reviewer shall review the process by which the decision of the Complaints Committee was made. Following its review, the Complaints Reviewer shall refer back to the Complaints Committee within 14 days of receiving the request, stating whether or not it considers that the process by which the original decision of the Complaints Committee was made was substantially flawed. If the Complaints Reviewer considers that the process was substantially flawed, the Complaints Committee shall review its decision taking into account the Complaints Reviewer's findings.

37. Following review under Regulation 36, the Complaints Committee shall issue an Adjudication outlining its findings which may include a requirement for the Regulated Entity to take remedial action.

40. If a Regulated Entity offers a remedial measure to a complainant which the Regulator or, if applicable, the Complaints Committee considers to be a satisfactory resolution of the complaint, but such measure is rejected by the complainant, the Regulator or, if applicable, the Complaints Committee shall notify the complainant of the same and that, subject to fulfilment of the offer by the Regulated Entity, it considers the complaint to be closed and a summary of the outcome shall be published on the Regulator's website.

67. The Regulator's Board will only impose fines or costs where the Regulated Entity's conduct is sufficiently serious. No fine or costs will be imposed unless the Regulated Entity has first been given the opportunity to attend a hearing at which the potential imposition of a fine or requirement to pay costs will be considered.
68. The Financial Sanctions Guidance shall be issued from time to time by the Regulator's Board. Amendments will be reasonable and approved by the Board in consultation with the Regulatory Funding Company.

5. In determining the level of detail to be included in a Regulated Entity's annual statement, the Regulator shall take into account the nature of the Regulated Entity including its size, the number of staff employed, number of Publications, circulation figures of the Publication(s) and annual turnover.

ANNEX B

1. Matters to be set out as part of the Regulated Entities' quarterly statements:
2. The name of the Regulated Entity's responsible person.

ANNEX C

1. The Regulator will inform the complainant and Regulated Entity in writing when it begins consideration of a complaint as set out in Regulation 14.
2. If the complaint has not previously been subject to the Regulated Entity's internal complaints process, the Regulator will provide the Regulated Entity with a copy of the complaint (and any further correspondence) and, if relevant, a copy of the material under complaint.
3. The Regulator will require the Regulated Entity to respond to the complaint within 7 days, or such longer period as is reasonable in the circumstance.
4. The Regulator may then conduct such correspondence between the parties as is necessary in its discretion to mediate or investigate the complaint, subject to the procedural requirements set out below.

Confidentiality

5. Neither party to the complaint should publish material provided to the Regulator as part of the investigation and mediation of a complaint; disclose such material to third parties except as is reasonably necessary in order to engage in the complaints process; or otherwise use it except for the purposes engaging with the complaint.
6. Should either party publish or disclose such information without consent, the Regulator may decline to consider a complaint further, or may consider the disclosure when reaching a determination on remedial action under Regulation 30.
7. These provisions do not prevent the Regulator from publishing details of correspondence exchanged during the complaint as part of a ruling on the complaint.

Transparency

8. The Regulator will ensure that both parties have had sight of any material on which the Complaints Committee may rely in reaching a determination on the complaint, including correspondence from the other party.

Timeliness of correspondence and complaints that are not pursued

9. The Regulator shall require both parties to a complaint to cooperate with it in the prompt consideration of complaints, and shall request responses to its correspondence within 7 days or such longer period as is reasonable in the circumstances. The Complaints Committee will be able to take any unreasonable delay in correspondence into account in coming to a view on a complaint.
10. Should the complainant fail to respond to correspondence the Regulator shall provide the complainant with a reasonable deadline after which the complaint may be closed as not pursued.
11. Should the Regulated Entity fail to respond to correspondence, the Regulator shall provide the Regulated Entity with a reasonable deadline, after which the Complaints Committee may proceed to make a determination on the complaint.
12. The Regulator will not generally reopen a complaint which has been closed as a consequence of a failure by the Complainant to provide a timely response. Complainants who seek to revive complaints that have previously been closed as not pursued will be asked to explain the reasons for the delay in their response. The Regulator will only reopen a complaint where, taking account of the reasons given and the full circumstances of the complaint, to refuse the request would be unreasonable.

Multiple complaints

13. When the Regulator receives a large number of complaints from third parties seeking to correct a significant inaccuracy of published information, the Regulator may, in its discretion, determine that its earlier involvement is essential, and proceed to summarise the complaints for the purposes of investigating the complaint on behalf of the complainants.
14. The Regulator will not refer the complaints to the Regulated Entity's internal complaints handling process, but will investigate them for the purposes of preparing them for a determination by the Complaints Committee as to whether or not there has been a breach of the Editors' Code.
15. Should the Regulated Entity make an offer of remedial action, the Regulator may notify the complainants of the offered remedy. If all complainants accept the proposed remedy as a satisfactory resolution to their complaints, the complaint shall be closed.
16. Subject to Paragraph 15, the Complaints Committee shall determine whether or not there has been a breach of the Editors' Code. Such determination shall be recorded as a single decision by the Complaints Committee.
17. Notwithstanding the above, the Regulator may, in its discretion, elect to refer similar complaints from third parties seeking to correct a significant inaccuracy of published information to a Regulated Entity's internal complaints process. In such cases the Regulator may, in its discretion, select a lead correspondent for the purposes of investigating and mediating the complaint.

Mediated complaints

18. If the complaint is resolved to the satisfaction of the complainant through mediation the complaint shall be closed. The Regulator will generally publish a statement recording the outcome on its website.

Proceed to determination

19. If the complaint has not been resolved by mediation, the Regulator shall inform the parties that the matter will proceed to a determination by the Complaints Committee. If the complainant wishes to make any further points, a copy will be provided to the Regulated Entity at least 7 days before any determination is made by the Complaints Committee.
